Values

Jim Pattison Children's Hospital Foundation affirms the following values to be at the centre of our mission, vision, policies and decision-making:

Message from CEO & Chair

At Saskatchewan's Jim Pattison Children's Hospital Foundation, we find inspiration each day from the children and families that we meet at our provincial maternal and children's hospital. This past year, your generosity has been immensely vital to our work at the Foundation given the over *80,000 visitations from children and babies coming to JPCH and more than *29,000 requiring emergency services.

Children like Grace and Rustyn who are highlighted within this report and require specialized pediatric care, and new moms like Amanda, whose daughter Veronica was born early and weighed only 0.878 kilograms

(1 pound, 15 ounces); are just a few people you have helped through your support of highly specialized maternal and pediatric equipment, research, patient programs and education.

Notably, Saskatchewan's only Pediatric Intensive Care Unit (PICU) is located within the Jim Pattison Children's Hospital and has been a beacon of hope for young patients and their families across the province, with an astonishing *62% traveling from outside the Saskatoon area to receive specialized care. Truly provincial, Saskatchewan's Jim Pattison Children's Hospital has served children and families from 499 communities and these numbers continue to increase.

Your support continues to be integral to ensuring that Jim Pattison Children's Hospital Foundation meets the ever-evolving and emerging priorities of our pediatric and maternal medical teams and patients right here at home. Critical initiatives and partnerships have led to added funding for research endeavors, major enhancements of life-saving medical equipment such as the purchase of Saskatchewan's first portable pediatric MRI and a robotic ultrasound that allows for greater accessibility for maternal patients in rural communities. World-class, patient and family-centred programming and urgent care equipment elevates excellence within Jim Pattison Children's Hospital and for families and kids in every corner of Saskatchewan. These are just a few examples of what you have assisted Jim Pattison Children's Hospital Foundation in achieving.

For being a crucial part of creating a dedicated provincial maternal and children's hospital and for ensuring we can pursue our purposeful work, we extend our sincere thanks. Your commitment to equal access for vulnerable patients and the belief that every child deserves a healthy life is deeply appreciated. Your support has been invaluable, and we look forward to continuing this journey together. Gratitude to all for being an integral part of our mission.

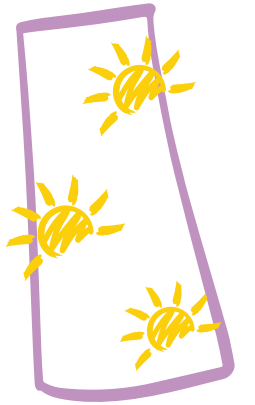

Gratefully,

Message from the Minister of Health

On behalf of Premier Scott Moe and the Government of Saskatchewan, I extend my sincere appreciation to the Jim Pattison Children's Hospital Foundation (JPCHF) for its continued commitment to supporting health care for our youngest residents in Saskatchewan.

JPCHF's valuable contributions enhance and support the work done at the Jim Pattison Children's Hospital. Our government is pleased with the collaborative working relationship we have developed with the Foundation over the years.

Since its grand opening in 2019, Jim Pattison Children's Hospital has provided outstanding care to newborns, children and expectant mothers from across the province. We appreciate the hard work and dedication of health care workers who look after Saskatchewan's youngest citizens.

We are happy to support the Foundation's fundraising campaign to purchase a portable MRI machine for the Children's Hospital. JPCH offering portable MRI services to pediatric patients aligns with our government's commitment to providing faster diagnosis and improved outcomes.

Our government also appreciates the commitment of citizens and companies who continue to give generously to the Foundation's fundraising campaigns. We are grateful for the ongoing financial contributions provided to support world-class, family-centred health care.

We value the important role of the JPCHF in supporting the work done at the Children's Hospital and extend our best wishes for continued success.

Thank you for enriching lives in Saskatchewan.

The Honourable Everett Hindley
Minister of Health
Government of Saskatchewan

Meet Nicko

2023 Champion Child

Canada's Children's Hospital Foundation (CCHF) along with the Children's Miracle Network (CMN) Champions Program honours remarkable children across Canada who have triumphed despite medical challenges. Each child acts as an ambassador for their hospital to demonstrate the personal journey children and their families take to overcome illness and injury.

Dying twice and surviving is not something that most people can brag about. For 17-year-old Nicko, it's a statement he's proud to proclaim.

He was born with spina bifida and hydrocephalus meaning his back was completely open when he was born. At just two days old Nicko underwent his first surgery, a kyphectomy, where three vertebrae were removed. A few days later he underwent his second surgery, placing a shunt tube in his head leading down to his abdomen to drain fluid. The surgeries both resulted in an excessive amount of blood loss, meaning that Nicko's only chance of making a comeback was to fight for his life at only a few days old.

Meet Nicko

Age: 17
Hometown: Martensville, SK
Condition: Spina Bifida & Hydrocephalus

“The first couple surgeries that he went through were so frightening. The amount of blood loss is what shook us the most, but Nicko is an absolute trooper. We couldn't be more grateful for the specialized care he received during that time.
 – Heather, Nicko's mom”

Now Nicko is 17 and has had six major surgeries, 10 minor procedures, and still visits Saskatchewan's Jim Pattison Children's Hospital regularly. Being a teen who loves history, Nicko has a profound history of his own and doesn't let anything hold him back. Nicko knows there is nothing he can't do, he just might have to find a different way to get there!

Learn more about Nicko's story:

Jim Pattison Children's Hospital Foundation is proud of our brave champion representing Saskatchewan kids across North America at Children's Hospitals Week.

Nicko and his family had the opportunity to represent our province at Children's Hospital Week in Orlando, FL to celebrate the 40th anniversary of Children's Miracle Network.

At this special event, Nicko shared his inspiring stories, met with fellow Champions from across North America, and spoke with Children's Miracle Network partners throughout the conference, sharing how their support helps kids like him all across Saskatchewan.

“It was a privilege to be an ambassador for Jim Pattison Children's Hospital Foundation, representing Saskatchewan kids at Children's Hospitals Week! I got to work with and meet incredible people which made the experience something I'll never forget.
 – Nicko”

You Made this Possible

Thanks to your generosity, AccuVein vein finders are now available in Jim Pattison Children's Hospital's Children's Emergency Department, Day Medicine and Pediatric Oncology Units, and Pediatric Departments, significantly enhancing intravenous access for pediatric patients and improving medical professionals' ability to visualize small veins.

Vein finders reduce the frequency of needle pokes, resulting in less pain and anxiety for the child. This equipment creates added accuracy and improved delivery of care for our province's children.

Extraordinary Things

You Made Possible This Year

Improving Maternal and Pediatric Patient Experience in Rural and Remote Communities

Jim Pattison Children's Hospital Foundation is honoured to partner with the Virtual Care and Robotics Program research lab at the University of Saskatchewan, under the leadership of Dr. Ivar Mendez on an exciting new research initiative. The MELODY Telerobotic Ultrasound System deployed in St. Joseph's Hospital in Gravelbourg, SK, allows a sonographer based at a central location to remotely perform an ultrasound to distant sites, without the expectant mother or patient having to travel long distances to receive the care they need.

In addition to Gravelbourg, the telerobotic ultrasound research initiative has successfully deployed this technology in three northern Indigenous communities, including Stony Rapids, La Loche and Pelican Narrows. The MELODY Telerobotic Ultrasound System is state-of-the-art technology that is shaping the future of virtual care technologies for patients across Saskatchewan.

Easing Barriers for Families in Financial Need

The healing of a child also means supporting the family, as they too are affected in a variety of ways during a hospital stay, including the added expenses that come with it. Through the Conexus Credit Union Family Amenities Fund, families have the opportunity to work with their dedicated Social Worker of Interprofessional Practice to apply for financial aid in coping with both the day-to-day and unexpected costs of having a child stay at Saskatchewan's Jim Pattison Children's Hospital.

Through this partnership and your generous donor dollars, you have helped families from over 54 communities across Saskatchewan through this program.

Providing World-Class CPR Training Equipment to Hospital Staff

Your generosity has made annual CPR recertification more accessible to the approximate 900 hard-working JPCH medical professionals, by providing them with their very own set of high-tech CPR training equipment. The infant, child and adult sized mannequins feature feedback devices that give immediate information on the rate, depth and recoil of cardiac compressions, improving each trainee's ability to give high-quality CPR. The new equipment has made CPR training sessions more efficient for nurses, allowing for hands-on CPR training right in JPCH, saving time by having equipment readily available for a greater focus on learning.

Helping Save Little Lives with State-of-the-Art Equipment

Your support has helped fund the state-of-the-art Sonosite SII-Wave Ultrasound System which allows medical teams at the JPCH Neonatal Intensive Care Unit (NICU) to provide immediate and safe responses to diagnostic imaging results. It is a valued tool used multiple times a day in the NICU at JPCH, providing quality care ultrasounds that are safe and painless for our tiniest patients.

Bringing Comfort to Children in Need

Thanks to generous JPCHF donors, the addition of a Snoezelen Cart at JPCH has created a safe and soothing environment that helps patients who are struggling with anxiety, need a distraction from pain, or have cognitive challenges that require further stimulation during procedures. The multi-sensory environment of a Snoezelen Cart, including a bubble tube, color-changing lights and mirrors, creates comfort for kids when they need it most. It has been a helpful tool in the Children's Emergency Department, helping children during long wait times and emergency procedures.

Meet Rustyn

Friends and family of six-year-old Rustyn describe her as a positive ray of sunshine. She loves anything girly, being a big sister, and having Taylor Swift dance parties with her mom, Ashlyn. However, things quickly took a turn for the young girl and her family this past May.

Rustyn was struggling to catch her breath more than usual. Her mother Ashlyn, who is a licensed practical nurse, assumed it was asthma. They went to their family doctor in Swift Current, SK, ran some extra tests and took an x-ray so pneumonia could be ruled out. The results led to something much more unexpected – Rustyn had a mass on her lung.

“I swear my soul had left my body by that point. I couldn’t hear anything but ringing and thought I was going to throw up and pass out before our nurse, who is also my co-worker and friend, caught me in her arms and we just cried until reality set in,” Ashlyn said.

Things moved very quickly from there. Rustyn was airlifted to Saskatchewan’s only Pediatric Intensive Care Unit (PICU) at Jim Pattison Children’s Hospital (JPCH). Rustyn’s medical team knew they had a short window to treat the large tumour that was compressing her lungs, as there was a chance for the tumour to break and block her airway.

Meet Rustyn

Age: 6

Hometown: Swift Current, SK

Condition: T-cell Acute Lymphoblastic (T-ALL) Leukemia

The next couple of days felt like a blur for Rustyn and her family, as they knew their lives would drastically change. Rustyn was diagnosed with T-cell acute lymphoblastic (T-ALL) leukemia and began immediate treatment.

Rustyn has made her family extremely proud as she takes on her medical journey with bravery and positivity. As Rustyn continues chemotherapy and treatment at JPCH over the next couple of years, her mom says they are incredibly grateful for the life-saving care she is receiving.

“Everyone at JPCH is always in high spirits. They’re informative and respectful. They make you feel like you’re in safe hands all the time, no matter what. I can’t say enough good things about the pediatric team and everyone who has been involved in Rustyn’s care.

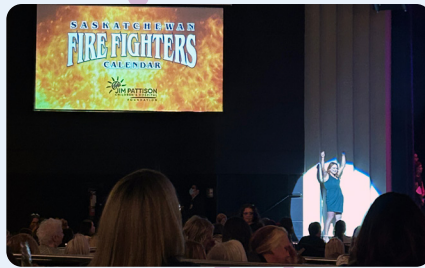

– Ashlyn, Rustyn’s mom

Gifts That Change Lives

Wayne and Debra Grund

In support of provincial child and youth mental health initiatives, Wayne and Debra Grund generously contributed $1 million to Saskatchewan's Jim Pattison Children's Hospital Foundation.

Jim Pattison Children's Hospital Foundation is proud to work in collaboration with the Department of Psychiatry at the University of Saskatchewan to support provincial and rural/remote child and youth mental health care programs and initiatives. Programs such as Strongest Families Institute (SFI) will be supported by this contribution. SFI provides evidence-based programs to improve mental health and well-being for children and youth by leveraging the advantages of skilled coaches.

The mental health and well-being of Saskatchewan children and youth is an integral part of the overall health care system. The Grund Family's support will help heal the whole child through their transformative gift of love.

During COVID-19 we saw first hand how the children and youth of Saskatchewan were struggling. Mental health issues among children and youth have always been there, the pandemic just brought attention to the desperate need for someone to do something...that is when we decided that someone was us!

Hope's Home

Jim Pattison Children's Hospital Foundation is proud to partner with Hope's Home by providing a $700,000 gift towards the specialized pediatric equipment and accessible medical fixtures required to care for critically complex pediatric patients.

Bev and Duane Smith

In addition, JPCHF received a donor-designated gift of $300,000 from Bev and Duane Smith in support of caring for kids with critically complex medical needs and specialized pediatric programming.

“ For many years, Bev and I have been supporters of Jim Pattison Children's Hospital Foundation. It is our desire to support leading edge provincial organizations focused on the needs of children and this partnership between JPCHF and Hope's Home meets our personal philanthropic goals. The JPCHF's purpose is to focus on the whole needs of the child and the arm of support from Hope's Home, absolutely fits with the common purpose these two organizations share. This partnership is also an exceptional example where people across the province can come together to find innovative solutions and take action to meet the critical care and respite needs of children and their families.

– Bev and Duane Smith ”

Star Blanket Ceremony

In spring 2023, following a traditional pipe ceremony in the Spiritual Reflection Room at Jim Pattison Children's Hospital, a special event was held with leaders from the Saskatoon Tribal Council who officially presented a handcrafted star blanket to Jim Pattison Children's Hospital Foundation. The star blanket, intricately woven with meaningful symbolism, represents the interconnectedness of all living things and carries the prayers and well wishes of the Indigenous communities it represents. The blanket is proudly displayed in the main corridor within the hospital, serving as a tangible embodiment of the partnerships' shared values, aspirations, and respect.

“The star blanket symbolizes community connection and marks bonds of honour in First Nation communities. When one is gifted a blanket, it shows respect and honour.”

– Tribal Chief Mark Arcand, Saskatoon Tribal Council

“ We are deeply honoured to display the star blanket in Jim Pattison Children's Hospital, showcasing our proud partnership with the Saskatoon Tribal Council, and serving as a reminder of our Foundation's commitment to culturally sensitive care for children and families in our province.

Meet Theo

Kaylene and Gabe from Regina, SK were thrilled to welcome their second son in January 2023. After a smooth delivery, Theo came into the world with medical complexities that required immediate attention at JPCH.

"We were overcome with so many emotions, especially fear and confusion. Would our little Theo be okay? Could he see? Could he hear? Could he breathe?" Gabe remembers about the moment Theo was born.

Theo was taken to the Neonatal Intensive Care Unit (NICU) and it became apparent the newborn would need specialized care. Theo was diagnosed with Treacher Collins syndrome, a craniofacial disorder that affects the development of bone and tissue in the head and face. The most critical feature is the underdeveloped jaw, which can block off the airway.

In the days that followed, the condition of Theo's airway worsened and there were many moments where he stopped breathing. Theo was eventually airlifted to Saskatchewan's Jim Pattison Children's Hospital (JPCH).

The young family spent the next eight weeks in the JPCH NICU and worked with many specialists, including a Pediatric ENT, plastic surgeon, respirologist, complex care team, social workers and dieticians. Theo received his Tracheostomy surgery in February, followed by a G-tube surgery in March.

Kaylene and Gabe were terrified that Theo's condition would be too complex for a Saskatchewan hospital, but say the environment and incredible care he received reassured them that JPCH was where Theo needed to be.

Meet Theo

Age: 11 Months
Hometown: Regina, SK
Condition: Treacher Collins Syndrome

“Something that really made a big impact for us were the rooms in the JPCH NICU – they are very spacious, and offered us a lot of privacy. But most especially, our medical team is what changed everything for us. All of our specialists were incredibly knowledgeable about what Theo needed. We were blown away by the cohesiveness and confidence of our care team, and they quickly became our anchor.”

- Gabe, Theo's dad

Today, Theo is a happy, cheeky little boy who loves watching his older brother Arthur dance and spending time with the family dog, Ivy. While having a child with a complex medical condition can be challenging, Gabe says being Theo's parents has given their family a deeper understanding and appreciation of life and love.

Monthly Donor Spotlight:

Abby Johnson has been a dedicated monthly donor and volunteer for Jim Pattison Children's Hospital Foundation since 2006.

“ The reason to donate is because it feels good, children are our future, and to alleviate the pain and the stress that parents encounter when their children are in a hospital bed. That must be the worst feeling in the world. If we can give something each month that will help give hope, maybe find a cure or just to get kids better, than it's worth every penny.

– Abby Johnson ”

Join Abby in positively impacting the lives of Saskatchewan children by signing up as a member of the Sunshine Maker Club for as little as $20 a month.

National Award for JPCHF

Saskatchewan's Jim Pattison Children's Hospital Foundation was honoured to receive the Largest Percentage Increase in Canada Award at the Children's Miracle Network conference at Children's Hospitals Week in Orlando, FL.

With a 24% increase in revenue from 2021 to 2022, our Foundation extends our appreciation to our amazing Children's Miracle Network Canada and Canada's Children's Hospital Foundations partners, advocating year-round for our dedicated maternal and children's hospital, and our generous donors who made this possible.

We are proud to partner with Canada's Children's Hospital Foundations (CCHF) and Children's Miracle Network (CMN). CMN is a non-profit organization dedicated to improving the lives of children in local communities across North America. CCHF helps deliver CMN programs in Canada. Together, they proudly support 13 children's hospitals across Canada with JPCHF as the Saskatchewan member.

Since 1993, this partnership has created countless miracles through the sale of Miracle Balloons, in-store donations, events, employee giving initiatives, corporate matches, and merchandise sales. Every dollar raised in Saskatchewan through Children's Miracle Network stays right here in Saskatchewan, to give the children and families of our province a better chance for a healthier future.

5 Ways You Can Support

1 Join the Sunshine Maker Club

Our monthly giving program is a meaningful way to donate via pre-authorized payments of $20 or more each month.

2 Start a Community or School Fundraiser

We rely on the support of incredible fundraisers and Young Heroes like you to hold community and school events, such as bake sales, golf tournaments, lemonade stands, and more, across our province to help create brighter futures for Saskatchewan sick and injured kids and their families.

3 What Will Your Legacy Be?

Leaving a bequest in your will or including JPCHF as a beneficiary via life insurance or registered investments can help continue your positive impact on the future health care of kids and moms-to-be for years to come. Legacy giving helps provide access to future specialized health care options for the next generation and often allows you to leave a larger donation to Jim Pattison Children’s Hospital Foundation than may be possible during your lifetime.

We recommend you speak with your family about your legacy giving intentions and consult your financial advisors prior to including a charitable donation in your financial and estate planning.

4 Create a Personal Fundraising Page

Every dollar you raise when you create a personal fundraising page, whether you are pledging a life milestone (birthday, anniversary, wedding, etc.) or starting your own fundraiser by rallying your friends and family for support, stays right here in Saskatchewan to help kids and families receive care right here at home.

5 Shop Sprout Gift Co.

Located on the main floor of Jim Pattison Children’s Hospital, Sprout Gift Co. carries a selection of gifts, fashion, toys, games, and home decor, both in-store and online with proceeds supporting JPCHF.
